

SERVICES 360

CORE

Data driven vehicle maintenance and digital services

No matter if you have your own workshop for repairs and day-to-day adjustments, or if you just prefer to not have a specific repair contract, the Services 360 Core package provides excellent maintenance coverage as a foundation. Through Flexible Maintenance, every vehicle is individually analysed based on both its current operation and operational history – an individual maintenance plan is automatically generated based on the needs specific to each vehicle, taking driving conditions, geographic topology, climate, PTO and payload into account, just to name a few.

Combined with a full suite of digital services, tools and insights from the included Control Package, the Services 360 Core package provides a solid foundation for reliable operations.

A STRONG SERVICES AND MAINTENANCE FOUNDATION FOR OPTIMISED PRODUCTIVITY

As the name suggests, the Core package is focused on the most central part of our Services 360 offer. We strongly believe that the Flexible Maintenance approach combined with a suite of digital tools and services strengthen the day-to-day administration, should be at the core of every transport operation. We would even dare to say that every transport operation out there would gain direct business value from our Core package. However, we also know that choosing a level of repair coverage is as much a business strategy decision, as an operational one. A decision about productivity risk management which is unique to every operation. So, if you want to increase your coverage to also include e.g. powertrain or chassis and cab repairs – we have more advanced services packages to offer – but Services 360 Core might be the perfect package for you just as it is.

Services included:

- Control Package
- Flexible Maintenance

Add-on services:

- Guardian

Want us to tailor the package further?

For us, your operation always comes first – and this means that you don't have to adjust your wishes to the exact services setup from one of your Services 360 packages. So let us treat them as starting points. If your business would benefit from a service that is not a fixed part of the Core package, we can always complement it and adjust our services package to ensure it becomes your services package. So, let's talk – and start deciding on what you need to ensure that your productivity is secured.
